The late Col. J. M. McCarty.

Mr. F. W. Pleasants, the son-in-law of the FRENCH AND AMERICAN MANUFAClete Col. J. M. McCarty, of Loudoun county, out lishes a card as follows:

Having accidentally heard, during the progress of the Usury Case, on Saturday last, reference made among by-standers, to a case which was tried in this county many years ago, in which the Chatham Fire Insurance Company of New York, were plaintiffs, and the late Col. John M. McCarry, of this place, defendant and which was decided in favor of the defendant, I have thought it due to the memory of Col. McCarty, that this community should be informed what was the final disposition of the money involved in that suit, inasmuch as he SOUTH KING ST., | SOUTH KING ST. repeated in a phamplet, published some years after the trial, a declaration which he had formerly made to the Chatham Fire Insurance Company, namely: that he intended to appropriate this money to some benevolent institu-tion in the city of New York.

The particulars of this trial, or its merits, it is unnecessary to state here, as they are familiar to all who will be interested in this communi- and will be constantly receiving, choice seleccation. Col. McCarty in the phamplet above tions of the above named goods, which will be referred to. assigns his reason for not immedi- | sold at reduced prices for cash. ately carrying out his intention with regard to the money, which was that the Fire Insurance Company still held a mortgage upon his prop-erty, thus rendering him hable to be sued in the Federal Courts, notwithstanding the decision the State Court had already given. He publishes the opinions over their own signa tures, of those eminent lawyers, General Walter Jones and P. R. Fendall, sustaining him in this position.

Col. McCarty always adhered to his declared intention relative to this money, and he distinetly enjoined upon his family, that this should be carried out in the event of his dying intes-

After his death, his only remaining child and sole representative, prepared to mecute her father's express command, as owing to the circumstances of his death, he left no will, but upon consulting counsel, she was met by the same difficulty which had embarrassed her father, viz: that she could only obtain the release of the mortgage held by the Insurance Company, by paying the money in question to that Company; accordingly, after well weighing the matter, she came to the conclusion that this would be the safest course to take; the money was therefore paid, and the mortgage released, as is shown by a certain deed of record in the Clerk's Office of the County Court | borers required in this State. THE HEATHEN OF LONDON.—At a recent meeting of the London Diocesan Home Mission, the Archbishop of York referred to the "heathen" population of the metropolis. He said: "I do not use the word in a spirit of unkindness, but we are obliged to face the fact, that while we call this a Christian country and send missionaries far and wide all over the world, we have at home an immense mass of the popuwe have at home an immense mass of the population who in point of education, in point of before the proper classes the advantages of the morality, really need our care as much as it is locations which we propose. possible for men to need it.
